Winemaker Notes

Harvested the vineyard blocks at the end of September, except the Roussanne, late to the party on October 20th; treaded the clusters in half ton bins to release color and flavors from the skins, then gently pressed the clusters. Racked off solids to a combination of barrels and a stainless steel tank (INOX) for fermentation and kept the wine on lees thru Feb. Native yeast fermented all the wine lots, with a natural ML fermentation in barrels. 2015 was another classic vintage for the Applegate benchlands of Southern Oregon. Early budbreak, warm spring weather, and moderate heat most of the summer. September brought cooler weather for flavor ripening and harvest.
